MUST-DO NEW ATTRACTION!

Bruce Lee Exhibition opens at the Hong Kong Heritage Museum

An exhibition on the life of Kung-Fu master Bruce Lee was recently launched and is scheduled to run for five years (20 July 2013 - 20 July 2018) at the Hong Kong Heritage Museum.

The exhibition gathers more than 600 precious relics and memorabilia, including 400 from the Bruce Lee Foundation and 100 from the Hong Kong Film Archive.

Covering a total area of 850 square metres, the gallery is inspired by scenes in Lee's five classic Kung-Fu movies, his gym and his study.

The Federation of Hong Kong Filmmakers have also produced a 75-minute documentary called The Brilliant Life of Bruce Lee, to be shown during the exhibition period.

Famous sculptor Chu Tat-shing has created a 3.5-metre-high statue of Lee in action, while animation artist Shannon Ma has made a 3D hologram showing Lee's quick, forceful kicking and nunchaku skills.

A definite must for all Hong Kong visitors!
