

Dear Jessica,

We can finally see the light at the end of what has felt like a long dark tunnel. Hong Kong life is starting to return to the new normal with more businesses opening each day and locals getting out to explore their own backyard.

As a whole, Hong Kong has managed to contain COVID-19 successfully to-date. The participation of the whole Hong Kong community and the quick implementation of pioneering technology has enabled the situation to be controlled and adapted to, with efficiency. However, we are not in the clear yet, we still need everyone to remain extremely vigilant, but we are getting closer to welcoming our friends back in the not too distant future.

Until then, discover, or for many people rediscover, Hong Kong through the eyes of industry experts and intrepid travellers sharing with us what they love about the buzzing city and beyond. So sit back with a cup of Hong Kong almond tea (recipe below) and explore the kaleidoscope of colour and culture that awaits.

Stay safe,
The HKTB Team

We are in this together

We have absolutely loved hearing your favourite Hong Kong memories. You shared your most quintessentially Hong Kong moments, from stunning snaps of the city, personal tips on where to find the freshest egg tarts, top end tailors and everything in between.

To give you just a taste, we want to share with you Garry Burn's story about how an impromptu visit to an electronics market in Sham Shui Po led to a Michelin star-fuelled gourmet exploration through Kowloon.

Join Garry on a culinary adventure

Hong Kong almond tea recipe

Using this time for some self care? Try this simple sweet tea recipe and feel good from the inside out. Served as a dessert or sweet drink after a large meal, almond tea is said to promote good health as well as glowing, supple skin.

Recipe taken from Destination Asia.

Step by step recipe

Lucky 8 - Melanie Thompson

This month we have a testimonial from Melanie Thompson (centre), Trade Account Manager, Western Australia for Hong Kong's flagship air carrier Cathay Pacific.

Check out some of her top recommendations for Hong Kong from great food to getting around on foot.

Read more

Travel advisories for Hong Kong

Hong Kong has enhanced precautionary measures given the latest situation of the COVID-19 virus. Please refer to our website for more information on the current advisories and measures.

Click here to find out more.

Ocean Park to reopen on 13 June

The Park will implement various anti-epidemic measures upon reopening. These include additional cleaning and disinfection at rides, attractions and facilities; body temperature screenings and face mask wearing policy.

Click here to find out more.

Neon Signs - An online exhibition

Presented by M+, Hong Kong's museum for visual culture, "Mobile M+: NEONSIGNS.HK" is an online exhibition that celebrates the city's streetscapes by exploring, mapping and documenting its neon signs.

Click here to find out more.

Hong Kong virtual tours

With the world currently experiencing travel disruptions, enjoying some of Hong Kong's top spots first-hand is just not possible at this moment. But that shouldn't stop you from checking them out virtually!

Click here to find out more.

Hiking Kowloon Peak

Kowloon Peak provides one of the most spectacular views of the city and for daredevils the famous cliff face provides some amazing photo opportunities.

The Best Hike In Hong Kong

Copyright © 2016 Hong Kong Tourism Board
Privacy Policy | Terms of Use | Contact Us | e-News |
Unsubscribe

