

Eileen Chang's Hong Kong Journeys

Popular writer Eileen Chang visited Hong Kong three times, eventually spending seven years in the city and writing of its sights and flavours in her books. Experience the beauty and romance of both her works and the city she loved with this tour.

Q Tour Highlights

- Glimpse Eileen's life on campus and explore the fascinating history and architecture of the University of Hong Kong
- Enjoy a feast at Di King Heen at the Royal Plaza Hotel Hong Kong, with gorgeous dishes that reflect the taste, style and setting described in Eileen's writings
- Visit the French and German-style landscapes on Kadoorie Hill where Eileen used to live and wander through the Flower Market nearby
- Walk beside the bluish sea of "Love in a Fallen City" on the city's gorgeous beaches
- Travel up the world-famous Peak to see the curvy white houses Eileen described in "The First Censer"
- Explore the traces of Eileen's life along King's Road at North Point
